

Ordered, That the bills, with their respective amendments, and the resolutions above mentioned, be severally engrossed; and

An act to authorise and empower the levy courts of the several counties therein mentioned, to alter, open and shut up roads in their respective counties, endorsed 'will not pass.'

And the said clerk delivered a bill, originated in, and passed by the Senate, entitled, an act for the benefit of Thomas Flynn, an insolvent debtor; which was read by its title, and referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Wootton, Steele, and Dorsey.

Whereupon, Mr Wootton, from that committee, reported said bill without amendment; which was then read the first, and, by a special order, the second time, passed without amendment, and returned to the Senate

Also, a bill, originated in, and passed by, the Senate, entitled, an act for the relief of Henry Marshall, of the city of Baltimore, an insolvent debtor; accompanied by the following message in relation thereto, which was read, viz;

By the Senate:

February 27th, 1830.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates:

The Senate, having received your message, stating the loss of the bill in favor of Henry Marshall, which passed this body and was sent to the House of Delegates. In compliance with your request, the Senate have substituted another bill, which they believe to be a correct copy of the former one.

By order:

Louis Gassaway, clerk.

The last mentioned bill was read by its title, and, with the said message, referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Hunt, Gantt, and Gittings; whereupon,

Mr Hunt, from that committee, reported said bill without amendment; which was then read the first time, and ordered to lie on the table.

On motion of Mr Hunt,

A short time thereafter the said bill was taken up for consideration, and, by a special order, read the second time, passed without amendment, and returned to the Senate.

And a bill, originated in, and passed by, the Senate, entitled, an act to restrain and punish certain evil practices; which was read by its title, and referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Done, Steele, and Grason.
